

DIVIDEND AND INCOME FUND

Fact Sheet as of September 30, 2018

Investment Objectives

1. Primary - high current income
2. Secondary - capital appreciation

Investment Approach

Under normal circumstances, at least 50% of its total assets are invested in income generating equity securities.

The Fund seeks to emphasize profitable, growing companies with conservative valuations across a broad array of industries. Generally, the Investment Manager seeks reasonably valued companies with track records of high returns on assets and high returns on equity.

- (a) Total returns and average annual returns reflect changes in closing market values on the New York Stock Exchange, reinvestment of distributions, and adjustments for rights offerings.
- (b) Returns represent past performance and do not guarantee future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data presented. Total returns are presented before taxes and reflect reinvestment of all distributions at reinvestment price. The S&P 500 Index is an unmanaged indicator of stock market performance. For performance data current to the most recent month-end, please call us toll-free at 855-411-6432.
- (c) Bexil Advisers LLC assumed the role of investment manager for the Fund effective February 1, 2011.

Distributions

A quarterly distribution of $0.20 per share was payable September 28, 2018 to shareholders of record as of September 18, 2018. Based on the Fund's results and estimates as of September 1, 2018, the sources (i) in the quarter ended September 30, 2018, for the current distribution of $0.20 per share are approximately 27% from net investment income, 0% from net realized short term capital gains, 73% from net realized long term capital gains, and 0% from return of capital or other capital sources, and (ii) in this fiscal year-to-date from January 1 through June 30, 2018, for the year-to-date cumulative distributions of $0.50 per share are approximately 25% from net investment income, 33% from net realized short term capital gains, 42% from net realized long term capital gains, and 0% from return of capital or other capital sources.

Disclosure

There is no assurance that the Fund's investment objectives will be attained. Past performance is no guarantee of future results. You should consider the investment objectives, risks, and charges and expenses of the Fund carefully before investing. The Fund's investment policies, management fees, and other matters of interest to prospective investors may be found in its filings with the SEC including its annual and semi-annual reports. To obtain a copy of the reports, please call us toll-free at 855-411-6432 or visit dividendandincomefund.com/fundinfo.html. Please read the reports carefully before investing.

The quarterly distribution reflects the Fund's current distribution policy to provide shareholders with a relatively stable cash flow per share. There is no guarantee that the Fund's current distribution policy will reduce or eliminate the Fund's market price discount to its net asset value per share and the Fund's trustees have no fiduciary duty to take action, or to consider taking any action, to narrow any such discount. The distribution policy may be changed or discontinued without notice. Shareholders should not draw any conclusions about the Fund's investment performance from the amount of this distribution. The amounts and sources of distributions reported are only estimates based on book basis earnings, are likely to change over time, and are not being provided for tax reporting purposes. The actual amounts and sources of the amounts for tax reporting purposes will depend upon the Fund's investment experience during the entirety of its fiscal year and may be subject to changes based on tax regulations. The amounts and sources of distributions year-to-date may be subject to additional adjustments. Distributions do not necessarily reflect the Fund's investment performance and should not be confused with "yield" or "income."

Shares of closed end funds frequently trade at a discount from their NAV. This characteristic is a risk separate and distinct from the risk that the Fund's NAV has in the past, and therefore could in the future decrease as a result of its investment activities. Neither the Investment Manager nor the Fund can predict whether shares of the Fund will trade at, below, or above NAV. The risk of holding shares of the Fund that might trade at a discount is more pronounced for investors expecting to sell their shares in a relatively short period of time after acquiring them because, for those investors, realization of a gain or loss on their investments is likely to be more dependent upon the existence of a premium or discount than upon portfolio performance. The shares of the Fund are designed primarily for long term investors and should not be considered a vehicle for trading purposes. The NAV of the Fund shares typically will fluctuate with price changes of the Fund's portfolio securities, and these fluctuations are likely to be greater in the case of a fund which uses leverage, as the Fund may from time to time. In the event that shares of the Fund trade at a premium to NAV, there is no assurance that any such premium will be sustained for any period of time and will not decrease, or that the shares of the Fund will not trade at a discount to NAV thereafter.
